

LMU-UCLA Seafood Traceability Workshop – Program Schedule
Monday, May 20th 2019
Loyola Marymount University, Los Angeles, California

Time	Activity
08:30 – 09:00	Check-in, light breakfast in Life Sciences Building Room 118
09:00 – 09:15	Workshop opening
	Welcome, introductions, and some logistics
09:15 – 09:30	Los Angeles and seafood
	Overview of LA seafood fisheries and industry, review of seafood chain-of-custody entering LA market, and highlighting conservation, health, and social concerns in seafood traceability
09:30 – 9:45	Perspective from seafood restaurant owner
	Reflections regarding experiences and concerns with seafood mislabeling by a restaurateur.
09:45 – 10:00	Perspective from seafood stakeholder
	Reflections on the challenges with following seafood through the supply chain and of seafood as an industry by a stakeholder.
10:00 – 10:30	Report from Year 1 of LA Seafood Monitoring Project
	Aggregated results to-date from first year of monitoring and comparison to previous 5-year study.
10:30 – 11:00	Report on recommendations to FDA The Seafood List
	Review of changes recommended in 2018 to The Seafood List for Seriola and update on progress.
11:00 – 11:15	Break
11:15 – 12:30	Workshop – Planning next steps for the LA Seafood Monitoring Project
	Discussion on next tasks of the project, including DNA barcoding of restaurant and processor seafood & current & future funding of project.
12:30 – 13:00	Closing, Lunch on Rose Hills Terrace